Administration

* Dr. Steven Watkins checks over the records

A variety of activities keeps Dr. Steven N. Watkins, Superintendent, occupied; he not only serves as co-ordinator of the nine public schools in Ames, but guards school funds, directs public forums and adult education classes, and distributes school books and supplies. Assisting him as secretary and stenographer respectively are Mrs. Grayce Elliot and Miss Laura Sayre.

Adviser and guide to every Ames High student is genial Herbert Adams, Principal. Overseer of curricular and extra curricular activities, he keeps records of every student's progress. Planner of events, maintainer of his standards of operation and discipline, he is largely responsible for the success of Ames High. Mary O'Neill and Colleen Michelsen, secretary and assistant to Mr. Adams, keep the records straight. Some of the office work was done by Ames High girls during their study peroids. These included: Ruby Alexander, Bea Briley, Patt Clark, Ada Marie Clausen, Salle Cole, Colleen Daulton, Delores Dryer, Jan Gerbrach, Jane Gilman, Bev Gore, Judy Green, Joan Hills, Jo Ann Hoffman, Mary Anne King, Alice Kirwin, Janis Marvin, Phyllis Mathews, Doris McNeil, Maryann Meldrum, Betty Miller, Donna Myrland, La Vonne Peterson, Norma Roelofsen, Joan Schreiber, Delores Sills, Cynthia Van Alstine, and Margaret Walsh.

The Ames Board of Education is the administrative body of the Ames Public Schools. The second Monday of each month the school board of five members, the treasurer, the secretary, and the superintendent of schools meet in the board room burning the night oil to keep Ames' nine schools functioning efficiently.

Members are elected at large for three year terms which are alternated so as to have experienced members at all times. The treasurer is elected for two years and the secretary is appointed for one year.

The Board of Education is responsible for the educational program of 2,350 students and the supervision of over one hundred faculty appointments. Deciding school policies and handling the budget and approving financial matters concerning the schools are tasks of the board.

Increasing enrollments in the lower grades have added to the problem of already crowded school rooms this year.

Members of the Board of Education are Ray C. Cunningham, president; Frank B. Howell, secretary; Hiram Munn, treasurer; and Stephen N. Watkins, superintendent of schools. Other members are Frank E. Adams, N. J. Brintnall, John D. Taylor, and William Murray. Mr. Murray replaced Mrs. James W. Johnson in February at the time of her death.

Administration

Members of the Board of Education are Ray C. Cunningham, president; N. J. Brintnall, Frank Adams, Dr. J. D. Taylor and Mrs. T. J. Maney. Frank B. Howell serves as secretary to the board and Hiram Munn as Treasurer, Following the death of Mrs. James Johnson, Mrs. T. J. Maney was elected to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Johnson.

Due to the increased business activities required in the operation of our school system and the evident enlargement of our system within the near future, the Board of Education reached the decision that it would be in the interest of efficiency and wise management to employ a full-time Business Manager. Frank B. Howell, who has served the board as secretary for a period of 26 years, was employed November 1 to take over this part of the administrative work.

Of major concern to the Board of Education throughout the present year has been its planning for the enlargement and improvement of the entire school system.

Energies have been directed toward the provision of sufficient classroom space for elementary pupils and plans have been developed for the construction of two new elementary schools.

It is hoped that the physical education facilities at Central Junior High School can be modernized and improved in order that all such activities related to the junior high program may be carried on within the Central School plant. This would allow a much broader and finer program for the pupils at Central Junior High School and also provide more time for use of the high school gymnasium by high school pupils.

At the regular spring election, permission was obtained from the people of Ames to sell the Field House. Inasmuch as this building has been used by the schools for shower room facilities only, it was thought best to sell the property and construct adequate shower room facilities at the athletic field for all such activities.

In addition to these items the Board of Education has plans for a suitable building in which to house the Franklin School pupils.

A bond issue to cover the costs of all new proposed construction was presented to the voters at a special election held Monday, May 2.

After outgrowing the name of sophomore, the jumors initiated themselves by taking an active part in the routines and activities of Ames High. Their first project was electing class officers to lead them through '49. Norton Mezvinsky filled the requirements of a class president according to the juniors. Vice president Norma Roeletson, Secretary Jane Mendon, and Reinhard Freidrich, treasurer, gave the necessary support to their class prexy. Completing the Junior Executive Council were Catherine Smith, Don Platt, and Dorothy Parsons. The spirit of co-operation was supplied in the council by the interest and advice of Miss Dorothy Bimson, class supervisor

Looking ahead to the financing of the annual Junior-Senior Prom given each spring, the juniors began plans for their class play. "Pride and Prejudice," a romantic comedy in three acts, was chosen by Mrs. Bruch, drama director

Tryouts began and during this time the play and favorite characters were the principle subjects of talk among juniors. Finally the east was posted with Jim Champlin, Mary Hayenga, Martha Stuber, Elizabeth L. Martin, Sylvia Anderson, Roberta Gillpatrick and La Vonne Peterson included in the Bennett family Completing the east were Paul Ahart, Kenny Rowe, Helen Stoaks, Art Schanche, Saily Haverly, Phyllis Pierson, Catherine Smith, Norman Dale, and Bill Busby

Numerous play crews were assigned and work on set and costumes began immediately

All jumors then set out to canvas the town in selling tickets for February 24 and 26.

Before the play had been presented, however, plans were already under way for the Prom. Many ideas for the theme and setting were discussed in hopes of making it the social high right of the year

Miss Banson, Platt, C. Smith, Friedrich, Parsons Mendon Roelofsen, Mezvinsky is absent

School had not yet started in the fall when many junior boys began their routine practice It was this same diligent practice and high spirit which brought the '49 football team top conference honors. Varsity awards were given to Bob Buck, Dick Cox, Jim Champlin, Mark Sowers and Dave Bappe, Awards were also given to three junior lads, Joe Sowers, Wallace Wright, and Bob Byrns, who were responsible for training the Little Cyclones. Not to be outdone by football activities junior fellows again demonstrated their athletic abilities in basketball. Regular starters on the team were Dick Cox, Bob Buck, and little "D" Arney who all rated high in picking up points and rebounding

Jumor reserves in both basketball and foot ball were not to be overlooked because of their staunch support and great team spirit

Junior homerooms by no means remained in the background in contributing to school activities. Homeroom 208 received top honors for leading Ames High in their generous contribution to the Crop Fund. This was a Hi-Y-Girl Reserve project for sending food overseas

One Junior Class member, Joyce Gray, not only held the office of secretary of Ames High Student Council, but was also elected state treasurer at a joint meeting of Student Councils in Boone

Thus the juniors have proved that as a class, as teams, as homerooms, and as individuals they are striving to promote the motto of AMES HI AIMS HIGH!

Sophomore Daze

Although this year was the first in Ames High for the sophomores, they have a lot to remember it by. To begin with, they made the usual mistakes such as walking into the wrong room, or going up the wrong flight of stairs and wandering down numerous halls until some upper classman helped them out. The sophomores in A Cappella choir and mixed chorus worked hard and yet felt repayed by the success of the Christmas and Easter performances. Dramatics also proved exciting for many of them. Here, among other things, they learned to apply makeup, and they gained experience by working backstage for the various plays, by building sets, lighting the stage, and helping run the business end.

Sports always create interest for the sophomores. Hard training and good teamwork proved profitable in both football and basketball. Bob Spangler and Dick Fowler especially showed promise for future Ames High football teams. Both of these boys at the end of the season played with the varsity squad. Basketball turned out to be good season for the sophomores when they won all their games. Dick Fowler shone in this sport also, and Bob Brayton and Red Millisen were excellent players. These sophomore teams, which in a year or two will help make up the varsity squad, already show that old "Ames High Spirit."

Bob Bourne, Red Milliken, and Bud Schultz contributed their talent to the Ames High Swing Band which played for various school parties. When Ames High started its yearly music series, Bud, who is very versatile in music, played a piano solo with the Ames High Concert Band. Sophomores also proved their ability in the annual talent assembly. Bud Schultz and Norma Hedrick played a piano duet and Dee Ann Smith entertained with a toe dance. Rex Peterson played an accordion solo, and last but not least the Vagabonds, a small band made up chiefly of sophomores, played "On the Sunny Side of the Street," led by Dick Day.

Being able to sit in the high school section at games, going to matinee dances, singing around the Christmas tree, listening to Friendship Week speakers, participating in Hi-Y and G.R. activities, and even being called "sophomore" have made the newcomers realize they are really part of Ames High in spirit and in body.

* Jim Robertson, elected football captain, is one reason why Ames was the C.I.C. champ this year.

Sports Notes

The 1949 track squad, coached by Hi Covey, started working out in February at the indoor track at the college.

In the State A A.U. meet in Des Moines this year, the squad took third place. Jim Robertson broke his own record in the shot put with a toss of 50 feet 312 inches, and Jim Prather won the mile run in 4:54

On April 2 Ames went to Iowa City for the state indoor meet and came home with a fourth place. Jim Robertson again won the shot put and this time shattered a 13 year old record with a heave of 54 feet 8½ inches. In the preliminaries, Page Arnold dashed 50 yards in :05.4 to tie a 16 year old sprint mark. Ames also took the 880 yard relay title, the winning team being composed of Ray Runkel. Mert Daulton, Perky Lidell, and Page Arnold.

Other meets this year included the Valley Relays, April 9; Oskaloosa relays, April 14; the Class "B" Little Cyclone Invitational, April 21; Class "A" Little Cyclone Invitational, April 22; Drake Relays, April 29-30; District Meet at Fort Dodge, May 7; Central Iowa Conference meet at Ames, May 13; State meet at Ames, May 21.

The Ames High netmen had one returning letterman this year, Tom Earl. Scheduled meets for the squad included two meets with Roosevelt of Des Moines, one with Fort Dodge, two with East of Des Moines, and the district meet May 14.

The golf team, coached by Ron Norman, faced Des Moines Lincoln, Marshalltown and Boone in dual meets and also held a Little Cyclone Invitational meet here besides the conference, district, and state at Ames.

Ames High completed a very successful football season by winning the 1948 conference championship with only a tie game with Newton to mar its record in conference play. The lone defeat of the season was to the mighty West Waterloo 7-0. Ames played one of the toughest schedules it has played for some time.

Jim Robertson was named captain at the annual football fireside, held at Lynn Fuhrer

Lodge the night before the Boone game. In that game the Little Cyclone squad gave Ames the right to keep the traditional Little Green Jug for another year.

The team this year was very light compared to most teams, but they made up for size and weight with speed

The grid team will lose nine out of the eleven starters this year. The starting lineup for most of the games included Dick Fincham, left end; Bill Byrus, left tackle; Bob Hall, left guard; Larry Thorpe, center; Ron Campbell, right guard; Jim Champlin, right tackle; Dick Hall, right end; Bob Buck, quarterback; Ramon Runkel, left halfback; Jim Robertson, fullback; and Merritt Daulton, right halfback.

The 1948-49 basketball squad wound up the season with an even split of nine victories and nine defeats.

Ames captured a tie with Boone for second place in the Central Iowa Conference with five victories and five defeats. Newton and Marshalltown ended in a tie for first place with eight victories and two defeats. Scores of the 1948-49 season are as follows:

Reserve Football

The reserve football squad, composed of sophomores and juniors, showed strength this year by winning most of their games. The squad was coached by Ray Smalling and Ron Norman. The scores to the games were as follows:

Ames 7—Marshalltown 7 Ames 27—Webster City 7 Ames 35 Story City 0 Ames 0—Boone 20 Ames 14—Boone 7

* The rough and tough reserves go into action. In their season's schedule, they played five games and won three, tied one, and lost one. Most of the games were played in the afternoon. In the left picture above, Dick Fowler charges through the line for a T. D.

Junior homeroom 111's pride and joy, Don Arney, hit 68 percent of his free throws to lead the team in that department. A five foot eight meh forward, "D" scored a total of 90 points this season, as well as turning in much excellent rebounding and floor play

Versitile Bob Buck, who performed equally well at forward and center, received honorable mention on the I D P.A. all state team and was named to the second all conference team. He scored a total of 132 points with a percentage of 53.5 from the free throw lane. Five foot eleven inch Bob bails from 208

Five foot eleven and one-half inch Dick Cox took team honors with 157 points for the season. This recipient of honorable mention on the I D.P.A. team and third all conterence team laurels finished the scason with 56 percent of his free throws. Dick, who also comes from 208, will be back next year

A total of 67 points was scored by Dick Hall

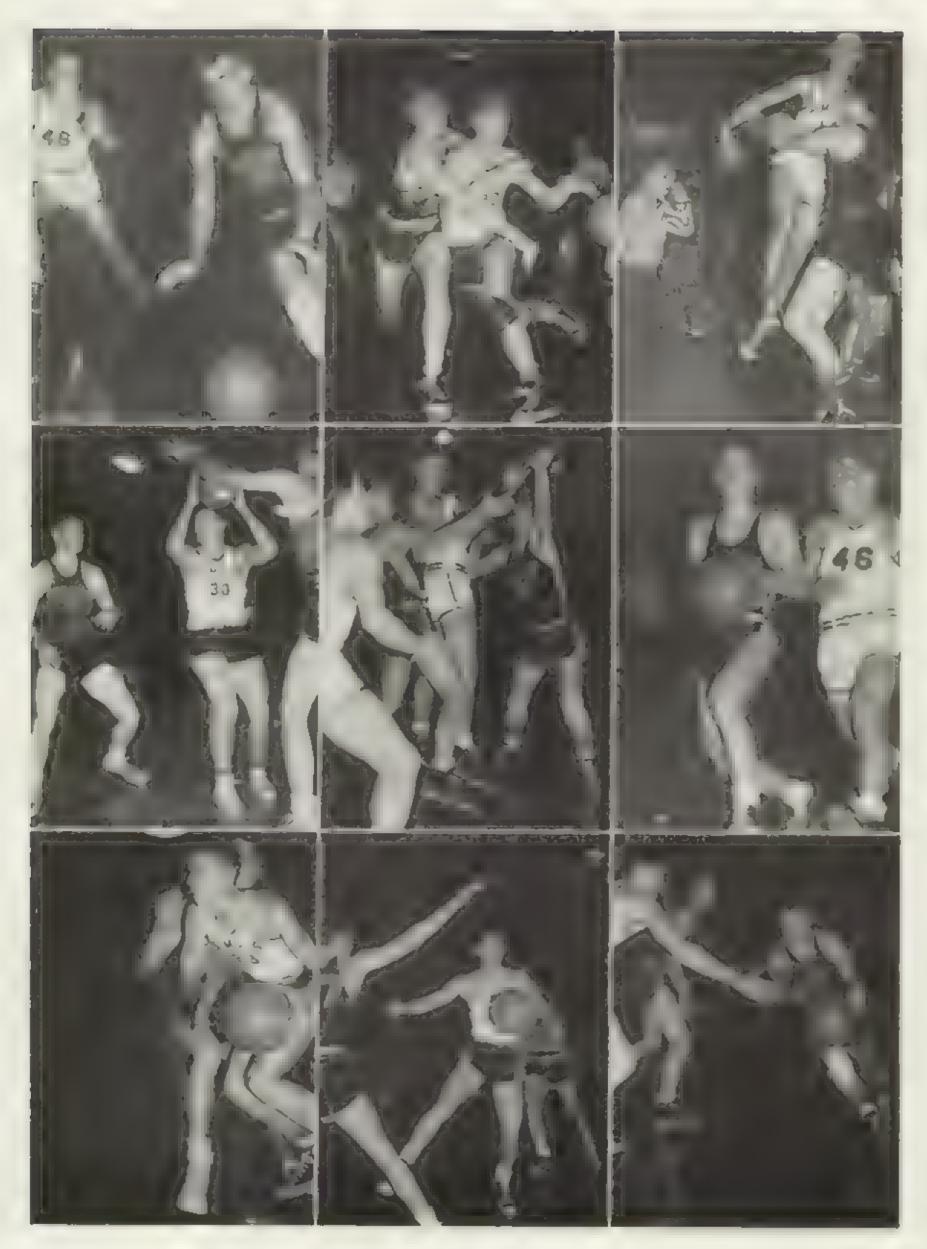

This five foot nine inch senior began the season at guard, but played in the front court as well toward the end of the season. A favorite son of 221, Dick made good 58 percent of his free throws.

Alternate guard Don Kelley performed well as a clutch player. This senior in 138 came through with 44 points during the season. Five foot eight inch Don made 40 percent of his attempts from the free throw line.

Senior guard George Lidell was honored by Jack North on his fifth all state team. Placement on the I D.P.A. honor list and second all conference team complete his list of laurels. 105 total points were scored by this member of 138. Five foot nine inch Perk dropped 61 percent of his free throws through the hoop. At a post-season meeting Perk was elected team captain

This was coach Ron Norman's premiere as head basketball coach.

Intramurals

Overseers of the intramural program this year were Ray Smalling, director; Dick Schory, so trary and statistician; class man vers, Dick Martin, John Barber (seniors) Billy Poe and John Ferguson (sophomores The intramural council is also important in matters concerning the rules of each tournament and the settling of disputes and protests

The fall program started with pass and touch football, tennis, golf, and the cross country run. The course was run in record time by Frank Blair, a senior

Heading the winter sports was the ever popular basketball. In the senior league, 234 took the trophy with junior and sophomore nomerooms 206 and 235 taking first in their respective leagues

Selections of all-star teams were taken at the close of round robin play. They are as follows

Also sharing the winter program were tournaments in pingpong, bowling, badminton, tugo-o-war, wrestling and voileyball. The faculty "six" challenged the senior champs and runner-ups in voileyball, 221 showed true spirit when they downed the faculty, but the "old gents" proved too much for the champions in their game with 234. Ray Smalling and Ron Norman made a good showing by cleaning Bob Allbert and Ray Long in badminton doubles

Moving on to spring sports the intramural program featured softball, track, tennis, golf, horseshoes and model airplane flying

Ames High Activities in Action

For every hour spent in school, the average Ames High guy or gal spends another one-half hour participating in one or more of the twenty odd school sponsored extra curricular activities. Highest on this list are Hi-Y and Girl Reserve.

Together Hi-Y and G.R. sponsored Friendship Week, the annual observance of the importance of the spiritual aspects of high school life. This year's speaker and counselor was Dr. Ronald V. Wells, director of religious education at Iowa State College. Halfway around the globe two war orphans, Jacques Aufrey and Jeanine Doyen, find a few more comforts in life because of the financial support and letters sent them by Hi-Y and G.R. members.

G.R. officers were Nancy Butler, president; Debby Munn, vice-president; Mary Anne King, secretary; Bea Briley, treasurer; Virginia Cunningham, assistant-treasurer.

Vocal music activities were highlighted by the annual Christmas program and Spring Concert. 1948-1949 choir officers were Ray Runkel, president; Bev Summers, vice-president; Maryann Meldrum, secretary; Mary Sue John, librarian; Harold Olson and Roberta Gilpatrick, robe keepers. Glee Club officers were Opal Hand, president; Betty Lou Jones, vice president; Elizabeth A. Martin, secretary; Pauline Thielman, librarian, Officers for mixed chorus were Norma Hedrick, president; Arthur Barnes, vice-president; Nancy Getz, secretary; Eleanor Rothacker, librarian.

The band and orchestra each presented a concert as part of the spring music program. Band officers included Jack Adams, president: Philip Pearson, vice-president; Dick Schory, secretary-treasurer; Norma Roelofson, librarian. Orchestra officers were Ray Long, president; Jack Peters, vice-president; Nancy Peterson, secretary-treasurer, Mary Hayenga, librarian.

Politics got a royal welcome this year in the school's first active campaigns for student body president, featuring speeches, posters, and even a little mud-slinging. Fred Martin was elected student body prexy in this first election. First semester officers were Wayne Brown, president; Jim Winfrey, vice-president; Joyce Gray, secretary; and Jerry Ersland, treasurer. Officers coming in with the new election plans were Fred Martin, president; Bob Albert, vice-president; Jim Winfrey, secretary, and Jerry Ersland, treasurer

The 1948-1949 edition of Pep club and marching band arranged all halftime entertainment and, in cooperation with cheersquad, the home game pep assemblies. Pep club prexy was Salle Cole; vice-president, Phyllis Miller; secretary, Susan Tilden; and treasurer, Mary Dame, Cheersquad this year was made up of Ruth Anderson, Patt Clark, Chuck Ernst, Judy Green, Dick Swank and Susan Tilden.

The highlight of the activities for the firesquad members and their girls was the annual picnic given for the senior members by the sophomores and juniors. Officers for the year were Dick Fincham, fire chief; Wayne Brown, secretary-treasurer.

Radio club became the newest organization in A.H.S. when it was started last fall. First semester officers were Rod Lake, president; Dick Dunlap, vice-president; Bill Bond, secretary-treasurer. Second semester officers were Bill Ohlsen, president; George Robinson, vice-president; Don Kjerland, secretary-treasurer.

Members of Operator's club ran many movies for the visual aids department. Officers were Bob Peterson, president; Jack Dunlap, vicepresident; Vera Biorn Hausen, secretarytreasurer.

The boys of "A" club, again this year, handled the initiation assembly in the fall and the club pictuc in the spring. Ray Runkel served as president; Bill La Grange, vice-president; Dick Hall, secretary treasurer.

Members of Library club were seen in action again this year checking books in and out. Officers were Cynthia Van Alstine, president; Jan Marvin, vice-president; and Audrey Townsend, secretary, Club sponsor is Mrs. Elizabeth Dickinson.

The two journalism classes ended the year with publication of their last issue of the Web, Ames High School's weekly paper

Each semester a new group of students undertake the responsibility of getting out the Web Both semester classes learn how to write the various types of stories, interview people, and track down news. They also put the Web together and proofread the stories just before they go to press at the Ames Daily Tribunc office on Wednesday morning. Three days are devoted to actually writing for the paper while the remainder of the week is used in studying the phases and techniques of journalism in general

Two complete staffs were set up each semes ter to edit the Web, one staff being in charge every other week. Editors for the first semester were Jerry Bennett and Nancy Butler, while Jack Peters and Dick Swank took over during the second semester

During the term of the first semester class the Iowa State High School Press Association convention was held at the college. Jim Winfrey was elected president of this meeting. Two members of the staff won honors, Nanev Butter receiving a first in straight news writing and Jim Winfrey a third in the feature story division

Under the supervision of Miss Charlotte Nelson, Web sponsor, the classes struggled with editorials and initiated a new type of feature, the pioneer story. The latter was obtained from interviews with long time residents of the community, and told about their experiences in Ames in early days

Highlight of the year for the Cubs' club was the Cubs' edition of the Ames High weekly Web Cubs club is a journalism organization offered to Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors who are not taking the regular journalism course offered in the senior year, and who are interested in learning how to write journalistic stayle. The Cubs also learn something about newspaper publishing before actually enrolling in the journalism course

Miss Charlotte Nelson acts as Cubs' club advisor and during the first semester teaches the Cubs the arts of straight news and feature story writing

The club held a few meetings before their edition of the Web to asquaint themselves with journalistic techniques.

The Ames High dramatics class commenced a year filled with plenty of fun and activity by producing Maxwell Anderson's broadway success Journ of Lorraine. Directed by Ames High's new dramatic coach, Mrs. Ruth Bruch, and produced by Drama Club, the play's familiar his totical background was well received by its audience and the play was generally accepted as one of the better dramatic productions at Ames High

The Junior Class choose for its play another popular theater hit. Pride and Prejudice by Jane Austin, while the Senior Class selected a favorite comedy, Joseph Kesselring's Arsenu and Old Lace

As in preceding years, Ames High was again represented in the University of Iowa City Play Festival by a one-act play cast from Advanced Drama club. The group also took a trip to their Falls where a short course in dramatic instruction was offered for high school dramatic students

Besides being active in play productions and entering contests, the drama classes were given a real schedule of study in their own school class periods. Beginning Drama acquainted themselves with the technical phases of stage production and gained experience in acting by producing a one-act comedy, Man in a Bowler Hal, which they presented to several Ames service clubs as well as to their own classmates. Two additional ones—to were presented second semester as well as making recordings of interpretive readings during the class periods.

Drama club, which is filled with all kinds of vet to be found talent," occupied themselves with the many projects Mrs. Bruch never seem ed to run out of. Among these projects were one-act play productions, skits and displays illustrating modern and medieval drama techniques in foreign nations, reports on present day American playwrights, and workshops where new dramatic equipment was constructed

Although Drama club selected no presiding officers, Ellen Pederson was elected business

The Palm, a national honorary dramatic award, was presented to seven Drama club members: Page Arnold, Barbara Judge, Doris McNeil, Janis Marvin, Phylfis Mathews, Sheila Moore and Ellen Pederson

The main objective of the Junior Red Cross for 1948-49 was to gain a 100 percent membership in the school

In the high school each home room had its own chairman. The chairmen of the home rooms made up the High School Junior Red Cross council. Ames High students are aware of the importance of the work done by Red Cross and the need for 100 percent membership. The response from all students in the high school was very good

A movie was shown in all the grade schools and Central under the guidance of Mrs. McCreary and Harold Olson to enlarge the membership of the Junior Red Cross among the students. Also a program was presented over radio station KASI to further the membership of the Junior Red Cross in the rest of Ames and surrounding communities. This program was headed by Mrs. Kate Mitchell principal of Lincoln grade school and secretary of the North Story County Red Cross The other participants in this program were Phyllis Mathews, Jerry Bennet, and Harold Olton

In April a musical program was given for the patients at the Veterans Hospital in Des Moines under the sponsorship of the Ames Junior Red Cross. Leaving cirly in the morning by bus, the Ames High Swingsters, the Harmony Cirls, and several students who helped to provide vocal numbers, were very warmly and enthusiastically received by all of the veterans

Mrs Dickinson was sponsor of the Junior Red Cross, with Harold Oslon serving as chairman for the first semester and Wayne Brown being chairman the second semester.

The Youth Center council, sponsored by Mi Page and Miss Robinson, was very busy this year trying to put some pep into some otherwise dull moments. Organized just before the loss of the field house, the council had divided up into committees and was making plans for the rejuvination of the field house.

The fact that we could no longer have the field house was quite a set back, but Mr. Adams came to the rescue with the news that parties might be held on nights after the basketball zames here in the high school halls and cafeteria

With the invaluable aid and cooperation of the homerooms, who did most of the actual work and planning, the Youth Center council was able to do its part to make the parties successful

The Adult Youth Center committee, with Dr Austin T Getz as chairman, did its best to find a permanent location for the youth center and deserves credit for their efforts

The goal adopted at the first of the year to make the Ames High Girl's Athletic Association a more active organization was successfully carried out. Tournaments were held in softball volleyball, badminton, basketball, bowling, tennis and ping-pong. A pot-luck was held in the fall in the honor of the softball and badminton tournament winners.

In May awards were made on the basis of points earned by participating in the various activities. A minor "A" is given for earning 500 points, a major A" for 1.000 points, and a girl who earns 1.500 points is awarded a black and orange felt dog

After the intramural basketball tournament as completed (see picture at right) all girls in the high school voted on three all-star basket ball teams. The following were elected. Seniors Salle Cole, Mary Daine, Debby Munn, Susan Tilden, forwards, Patt Clark, Colleen Daulton, Jean Goodspeed Judy Green, guards. Jumors:

Again this year a representative to the G.A.A council was elected by each homeroom so that the G.A.A. business could be carried out more efficiently. A "Girl of the Month" was chosen each month in recognition of some outstanding G.A.A. gill

Offic is for the year are Colleen Daulton, president; Ellen Pederson, vice-president; Viginia Cunningham, secretary-treasurer; Willa Beckley, intramural chairman; Marlys Constock, point recorder; and Salle Cole, social chairman. Miss Opal Robinson is the G.A.A. sponsor

* In January 71 girls were initiated into active membership in G.A.A. The girls fulfilled the initiation requirement of 100 points by participating in activities and by completing health charts. A girl receives four points for each hour of participation.
